INDEX Author & Subject

Volume 7

Author Index

Allegheny Conference on Community Development, Partnerships in education, No. 3, p. 13

Anton, Roger, Creating a positive school environment — a reward/denial approach to boosting student morale, No. 2, p. 24

Banach, William Jr., Communication and internal relations are problems for board members, No. 3, p. 8

Bratlien, Maynard, Research: Educational marketing draws support at Southeast Texas educator conference, No. 2, p. 28; Educational marketing gets top billing at Iowa administrator institute, No. 2, p. 28; Educational public relation directors have little effect on the perceptions of school business officials, No. 3, p. 34; The flawed jewell, response to case study in No. 2 issue, No. 3, p. 25

Brinkley, Mike, Creating a positive school environment — a reward/denial approach to boosting student morale, No. 2, p. 24

Borich, Robert, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Cantrall, Gene, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Childers, John H. Jr., How to deal with angry people — human relations strategies that work, No. 2, p. 18; Building rapport — how to establish trust, harmony and cooperation, No. 4, p. 13.

Cooledge, Nancy, Recruit retirees as instructional volunteers, No. 2, p. 21

Corrigan, Dennis M., PR strategies for a school arts support campaign in the community, No. 4, p. 4

DeCuir, George, All we need is a little respect, No. 4, p. 20

Doyle, Dennis, Does more state aid for schools make local school districts obsolete?, No. 3, p. 4

Faison, Hawthorne, A school PR resource map — a nationwide comparative analysis of common practices and activities in 84 districts of various sizes, No. 1, p. 11

Fasenmyer, Sharon A., The principal's human touch, No. 4, p. 36

Finn, Chester Jr., Does more state aid for schools make local school districts obsolete?, No. 3, p. 4

Flowers, Helen F., Research: Who are the voters who feel they should vote yes in school budget referenda?, No. 2, p. 29

Gardner, David W., Bursting the trouble bubble, response to case study in Vol. 6, No. 4 issue, No. 1, p. 10; Research: A telephone survey is timely, cheap and accurate, No. 4, p. 11

Golen, Steven, Research, Administrators identify communication problems when dealing with their supervisors, No. 3, p. 34

Gorton, Richard A., An administrator-reporter conflict, a case study of media coverage depending on the relationship between an educator and a reporter, No. 1, p. 8

Hairston, John, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Hendrickson, Grant, Writing competency of prospective teachers is not assumed by a northwestern school district, No. 3, p. 26

Holliday, Albert E., The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Ishaq, Yasin, Research: PR plays a minor role in desegregation efforts, No. 1, p. 30

Kolen, Michael J., Research: Who are the voters who feel they should vote yes in school budget referenda?, No. 2, p. 29

Lane, Jan, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Major, Robert L., Praise — an often overlooked tool of internal communication, No. 1, p. 28

Mamana, Joseph, The principal's humane touch, No. 4, p. 36

Morrison, Sandy, Start a liaison network to promote balanced newspaper coverage, No. 2, p. 10

Oberg, Terry, Research: NSPRA accredited PR directors opt for organization, No. 1, p. 30; The passing of Lyons, a case study of a political changing of the guard, No. 2, p. 14

Ostrow, Barry J., Computer-activated news — the classroom newsroom connection, No. 3, p. 30

Palmer, Roberta, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Podemski, Richard S., How to deal with angry people — human relations strategies that work, No. 2, p. 18

Randall, Wendy, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Rogers, Bob G., Changing an image, response to case study in No. 1, No. 2, p. 16

Robinson, Thomas E., Do we face crises, or do we have opportunities? — how to seize upon crises to achieve long range improvements, No. 1, p. 4

Ruffin, Santee C. Jr., School-business partnerships: why not? — laying the foundation for successful programs, No. 2, p. 4

Shakeshaft, Carol, Research: A telephone survey is timely, cheap and accurate, No. 4, p. 11

Stalcup, Robert J., History repeats itself, response to case study in No. 3, No. 4, p. 33

Steller, Arthur W., A school PR resource map — a nationwide comparative analysis of common practices and activities in 84 districts of various sizes, No. 1, p. 11

Taunton, Martha, PR strategies for a school arts support campaign in the community, No. 4, p. 4

West, Philip T., Take me to your leader, a case study of a district which tried the master teacher reward system, No. 3, p. 22; A four-leaf clover, a case study of a superintendent with a very low profile, No. 4, p. 30; Research: Educational marketing gets top billing at Iowa administrator institute, No. 2, p. 28; Educational marketing draws support at Southeast Texas educator conference, No. 2, p. 28; Educational public relations directors have little effect on the perceptions of school business officials, No. 3, p. 34; Professors favor community involvement as a PR strategy, No. 4, p. 10

Whetten, Clifford I., Research: Personal contact most favored as PR technique for community educators, No. 1, p. 31

Yoder, Sharon Logsdon, Five steps to develop an internal communication plan, No. 4, p. 24

Subject Index

Administration

Do we face crises, or do we have opportunities? — how to seize upon crises to achieve long range improvements, Thomas E. Robinson, No. 1, p. 4

Does more state aid for schools make local school districts obsolete? Dennis Doyle and Chester Finn, Jr., No. 3, p. 4

Writing competency of prospective teachers is not assumed by a northwestern school district, Grant Hendrickson, No. 3, p. 26

Case Studies

An administrator-reporter conflict — media coverage depending on the relationship between an educator and a reporter, Richard A. Gorton, No. 1, p. 8

The passing of Lyons — a political changing of the guard, Terry Oberg, No. 2, p. 14

A four-leaf clover — a superintendent with a very low profile, Philip T. West, No. 4, p. 30

Take me to your leader — a district which tried the master teacher reward system, Philip T. West, No. 3, p. 22

Cast Studies Responses

Bursting the trouble bubble, response to case study in Vol. 6, No. 4, David W. Gardner, No. 1, p. 10

Changing an image, response to case study in No. 1, Bob G. Rogers, No. 2, p. 16

The flawed jewell, response to case study in No. 2, Maynard Bratlien, No. 3, p. 25

History repeats itself, response to case study in No. 3. Robert J. Stalcup, No. 4, p. 33

INDEX Author & Subject

Volume 7

Author Index

Allegheny Conference on Community Development, Partnerships in education, No. 3, p. 13

Anton, Roger, Creating a positive school environment — a reward/denial approach to boosting student morale, No. 2, p. 24

Banach, William Jr., Communication and internal relations are problems for board members, No. 3, p. 8

Bratlien, Maynard, Research: Educational marketing draws support at Southeast Texas educator conference, No. 2, p. 28; Educational marketing gets top billing at Iowa administrator institute, No. 2, p. 28; Educational public relation directors have little effect on the perceptions of school business officials, No. 3, p. 34; The flawed jewell, response to case study in No. 2 issue, No. 3, p. 25

Brinkley, Mike, Creating a positive school environment — a reward/denial approach to boosting student morale, No. 2, p. 24

Borich, Robert, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Cantrall, Gene, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Childers, John H. Jr., How to deal with angry people — human relations strategies that work, No. 2, p. 18; Building rapport — how to establish trust, harmony and cooperation, No. 4, p. 13.

Cooledge, Nancy, Recruit retirees as instructional volunteers, No. 2, p. 21

Corrigan, Dennis M., PR strategies for a school arts support campaign in the community, No. 4, p. 4

DeCuir, George, All we need is a little respect, No. 4, p. 20

Doyle, Dennis, Does more state aid for schools make local school districts obsolete?, No. 3, p. 4

Faison, Hawthorne, A school PR resource map — a nationwide comparative analysis of common practices and activities in 84 districts of various sizes, No. 1, p. 11

Fasenmyer, Sharon A., The principal's human touch, No. 4, p. 36

Finn, Chester Jr., Does more state aid for schools make local school districts obsolete?, No. 3, p. 4

Flowers, Helen F., Research: Who are the voters who feel they should vote yes in school budget referenda?, No. 2, p. 29

Gardner, David W., Bursting the trouble bubble, response to case study in Vol. 6, No. 4 issue, No. 1, p. 10; Research: A telephone survey is timely, cheap and accurate, No. 4, p. 11

Golen, Steven, Research, Administrators identify communication problems when dealing with their supervisors, No. 3, p. 34

Gorton, Richard A., An administrator-reporter conflict, a case study of media coverage depending on the relationship between an educator and a reporter, No. 1, p. 8

Hairston, John, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Hendrickson, Grant, Writing competency of prospective teachers is not assumed by a northwestern school district, No. 3, p. 26

Holliday, Albert E., The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Ishaq, Yasin, Research: PR plays a minor role in desegregation efforts, No. 1, p. 30

Kolen, Michael J., Research: Who are the voters who feel they should vote yes in school budget referenda?, No. 2, p. 29

Lane, Jan, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Major, Robert L., Praise — an often overlooked tool of internal communication, No. 1, p. 28

Mamana, Joseph, The principal's humane touch, No. 4, p. 36

Morrison, Sandy, Start a liaison network to promote balanced newspaper coverage, No. 2, p. 10

Oberg, Terry, Research: NSPRA accredited PR directors opt for organization, No. 1, p. 30; The passing of Lyons, a case study of a political changing of the guard, No. 2, p. 14

Ostrow, Barry J., Computer-activated news — the classroom newsroom connection, No. 3, p. 30

Palmer, Roberta, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Podemski, Richard S., How to deal with angry people — human relations strategies that work, No. 2, p. 18

Randall, Wendy, The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, No. 4, p. 16

Rogers, Bob G., Changing an image, response to case study in No. 1, No. 2, p. 16

Robinson, Thomas E., Do we face crises, or do we have opportunities? — how to seize upon crises to achieve long range improvements, No. 1, p. 4

Ruffin, Santee C. Jr., School-business partnerships: why not? — laying the foundation for successful programs, No. 2, p. 4

Shakeshaft, Carol, Research: A telephone survey is timely, cheap and accurate, No. 4, p. 11

Stalcup, Robert J., History repeats itself, response to case study in No. 3, No. 4, p. 33

Steller, Arthur W., A school PR resource map — a nationwide comparative analysis of common practices and activities in 84 districts of various sizes, No. 1, p. 11

Taunton, Martha, PR strategies for a school arts support campaign in the community, No. 4, p. 4

West, Philip T., Take me to your leader, a case study of a district which tried the master teacher reward system, No. 3, p. 22; A four-leaf clover, a case study of a superintendent with a very low profile, No. 4, p. 30; Research: Educational marketing gets top billing at Iowa administrator institute, No. 2, p. 28; Educational marketing draws support at Southeast Texas educator conference, No. 2, p. 28; Educational public relations directors have little effect on the perceptions of school business officials, No. 3, p. 34; Professors favor community involvement as a PR strategy, No. 4, p. 10

Whetten, Clifford I., Research: Personal contact most favored as PR technique for community educators, No. 1, p. 31

Yoder, Sharon Logsdon, Five steps to develop an internal communication plan, No. 4, p. 24

Subject Index

Administration

Do we face crises, or do we have opportunities? — how to seize upon crises to achieve long range improvements, Thomas E. Robinson, No. 1, p. 4

Does more state aid for schools make local school districts obsolete? Dennis Doyle and Chester Finn, Jr., No. 3, p. 4

Writing competency of prospective teachers is not assumed by a northwestern school district, Grant Hendrickson, No. 3, p. 26

Case Studies

An administrator-reporter conflict — media coverage depending on the relationship between an educator and a reporter, Richard A. Gorton, No. 1, p. 8

The passing of Lyons — a political changing of the guard, Terry Oberg, No. 2, p. 14

A four-leaf clover — a superintendent with a very low profile, Philip T. West, No. 4, p. 30

Take me to your leader — a district which tried the master teacher reward system, Philip T. West, No. 3, p. 22

Cast Studies Responses

Bursting the trouble bubble, response to case study in Vol. 6, No. 4, David W. Gardner, No. 1, p. 10

Changing an image, response to case study in No. 1, Bob G. Rogers, No. 2, p. 16

The flawed jewell, response to case study in No. 2, Maynard Bratlien, No. 3, p. 25

History repeats itself, response to case study in No. 3. Robert J. Stalcup, No. 4, p. 33

Communication processes

Building rapport — how to establish trust, harmony and cooperation, John H. Childers, Jr., No. 4, p. 13

How to deal with angry people — human relations strategies that work, Richard S. Podemski and John H. Childers, Jr., No. 2, p. 18

Start a liaison network to promote balanced newspaper coverage, Sandy Morrison, No. 2, p. 10

External Publics

Partnerships in education, Allegheny Conference on Community Development, No. 3, p. 13

PR strategies for a school arts support campaign in the community, Martha Taunton and Dennis M. Corrigan, No. 4, p. 4

Recruit retirees as instructional volunteers, Nancy Cooledge, No. 2, p. 21

School-business partnerships: why not? — laying the foundation for successful programs, Santee D. Ruffin, Jr., No. 2, p. 4

Internal Publics

All we need is a little respect, George DeCuir, No. 4, p. 20

Communication and internal relations are problems for board members, William Banach, Jr., No. 3, p. 8

Creating a positive school environment — a reward/denial approach to boosting student morale, Mike Brinkley and Roger Anton, No. 2, p. 24

Five steps to develop an internal communication plan, Sharon Logsdon Yoder, No. 4, p. 24

Praise — an often overlooked tool of internal communication, Robert L. Major, No. 1, p. 28

The principal's humane touch, Sharon A. Fasenmyer and Joseph Mamana, No. 4, p. 36

Research

Administrators identify communication problems when dealing with their supervisors, Stephen Golen, No. 3, P. 34

Educational marketing draws support at Southeast Texas educator conference, Maynard Bratlien and Philip T. West, No. 2, p. 28

Educational marketing gets top billing at Iowa administrator institute, Philip T. West and Maynard Bratlien, No. 2, p. 28

Educational public relation directors have little effect on the perceptions of school business officials, Philip T. West and Maynard Bratlien, No. 3, p. 34

NSPRA accredited PR directors opt for organization, Terry Oberg, No. 1, p. 30

Personal contact most favored as PR technique for community educators, Clifford I. Whetten, No. 1, p. 31

Professors favor community involvement as a PR strategy, Philip T. West, No. 4, p. 10

PR plays a minor role in desegragation efforts, Yasin Ishaq, No. 1, p. 30

A telephone survey is timely, cheap and accurate, David W. Gardner and Carol Shakeshaft, No. 4, p. 11

Who are the voters who feel they should vote yes in a school budget referenda?, Helen F. Flowers and Michael J. Kolen, No. 2, p. 29

Tools

Computer-activated news — the classroom newsroom connection, Barry J. Ostrow, No. 3, p. 30

The 1985 PR/Planning Guide, Robert Borich, Gene Cantrall, John Hairston, Albert E. Holliday, Roberta Palmer, Wendy Randall, No. 4, p. 16

A school PR resource map — a nationwide comparative analysis of common practices and activities in 84 districts of various sizes, Arthur W. Steller and Hawthorne Faison, No. 1, p. 11

Book Reviews

by Thomas E. Robinson

The American School Superintendency 1982: A summary report, Lavern L. Cunningham and Joseph T. Hentges, No. 2, p. 32

Building morale — motivating staff: Problems and solutions, Ben Brodinsky, No. 2, p. 33

The Changing politics of education: Prospects for the 1980s, Edith K. Mosher and Jennings L. Wagoner, Jr., No. 1, p. 32

Communication by objectives: A guide to productive and cost effective public relations and marketing, Richard E. Landgren, No. 2, p. 34

The Educator's quotebook, Edgar Dale, No. 3, p. 12

Excellence: Your guide to action now, Education USA special report, No. 3, p. 10.

Getting your message out: How to get, use and survive radio and television air time, Michael M. Klepper, No. 3, p. 10

Handbook for developing schools with good discipline, PDK Commission on Discipline, No. 2, p. 33

How to write a successful report, Simon Mort, No. 4. p. 11

Learn from the winners: School PR programs that work, Donald L. Hymes, No. 4, p. 34

Legal aspects of pupil transportation, Ralph D. Mawdsley, No. 4, p. 11

Men, women, messages and media, Wilbur Schramm and William E. Porter, No. 2, p. 34

The Nonsexist communicator: Solving the problems of gender and awkwardness in modern English, Bobbye D. Sorrels, No. 3, p. 12

Practical public relations: Common sense guidelines for business and professional people, Sam Black and Melvin L. Sharpe, No. 3, p. 11

The Quest for excellence: Making public schools more effective, Thomas B. Corcoran and Barbara J. Hansen, No. 1, p. 33

Reaching for excellence: A step-by-step workshop kit for involving your staff, parents and community, NSPRA, No. 1, p. 33

School law update — 1982, Thomas N. Jones and Darel P. Semler, No. 2, p. 35

School law update — preventive school law, Thomas N. Jones and Darel P. Semlar, No. 3, p. 11

The School and community relations: Third edition, Leslies W. Kindred, Don Bagin and Donald R. Gallagher, No. 2, p. 32

Teaching communication and reading skills in the content areas, Dorothy Grant Hennings, No. 2, p. 33

What legally constitutes an adequate public education?, Martha M. McCarthy and Paul T. Geignan, No. 4, p. 34

Who planned the curriculum?, J. Galen Saylor, No. 2, p. 35

The Yearbook of school law, Philip K. Piele, No. 1. p. 32 ■